DO YOU REMEMBER?

"UN BACIO DATO NON E MAI PERDUTO."

Because we once drove together
In the moonlight over the snow,
With the sharp bells ringing their tinkling chime,
So many a year ago,

So, now, as I hear them jingle,
The Winter comes back again,
Though Summer stirs in the heavy trees,
And the wild rose scents the lane.

We gather our furs around us,
Our faces the keen air stings,
And noiselessly we fly o'er the snow-hushed world
Almost as if we had wings.

Enough is the joy of mere living,
Enough is the blood's quick thrill;
We are simply happy—I care not why—
We are happy beyond our will.

The trees are with icicles jeweled,
The walls are o'er-surfed with snow;
The houses with marble whiteness are roofed,
In their windows the home-lights glow.

Through the tense, clear sky above us
The keen stars flash and gleam,
And wrapped in their silent shroud of snow
The broad fields lie and dream.

And closely you nestle against me,
While around your waist my arm
I have slipped—'tis so bitter, bitter, cold—
It is only to keep us warm.

We talk, and then we are silent;
And suddenly—you know why—
I stooped—could I help it?—You lifted your face—
We kissed—there was nobody nigh.

And no one was ever the wiser,
And no one was ever the worse;
The skies did not fall—as perhaps they ought—
And we heard no paternal curse.

I never told it—did you, dear?
From that day unto this;
But my memory keeps in its utmost recess,
Like a perfume, that innocent kiss.

I dare say you have forgotten,
'Twas so many years ago;
Or you may not choose to remember it,
Time may have changed you so.

The world so chills us and kills us,
Perhaps you may scorn to recall
That night, with its innocent impulse—
Perhaps you'll deny it all.

But if of that fresh, sweet nature
The veriest vestige survive,
You remember that moment's madness—
You remember that moonlight drive.

Atlantic Monthly.

The Arms of Various Nations.

What a conglomeration of poor taste and poorer ideas is expressed in the coat-of-arms which nations and States have unfortunately accepted. Examine some of them:

Prussia, the half-naked fellows in the posture of song and dance artists, a flag in one hand and with the other carrying along a shield as expressmen would carry a trunk.

Finland—A lion with a tail like an inverted J, walking on its hind legs, a cane in one paw and a policeman's club in the other.

Norway—Another lion with a similar J doing a grand eccentric clog dance and waltzing around the room with a battle ax in its paw.

China—A serpentine fish with the head of a Chinaman and a hat upon its head, doing the Kiralfy style of contortions.

Scotland—Another lion with the smile of a toddling baby.

Hayti—A cross between an eagle and a buzzard, bracing itself on two sticks and balancing a palm tree on its head.

Holland—Another lion with another J, holding a dagger in its paw and leering at it in a half drunken sort of a way.

Bavaria—A crown, balanced on a shield on which two trained dogs are walking on their hind legs.

United States—A bald-headed eagle, clutching a roll of ribbon in his mouth, with a shield tacked on his breast like a bib, and having in one claw a bundle of worthless spears and in the other a clipping from an apple tree.

Arizona—A bass player, accidentally leaning on a spade instead of a bat.

Montana—A meditative bull looking at a plow.

Kentucky—Two society men engaging in a wrestling match.

North Carolina—An Amazonian-looking woman, with her dress cut so as to expose the whole of her right leg, supporting herself on a horn and laying down the law to a female in a blue dress, squatted on vacancy and holding a red cap on a long staff.

Michigan—Two bob-tailed elk supporting a shield.

Virginia—A very indecently dressed female, with foot on the stomach of a blue-coated individual who holds a cat-o'-nine-tails in his hand.

Tennessee—An impossible plow and an improbable sheaf of wheat, dubbed "Agricultural," with a river scow with Chinese sails and dubbed "Commerce."

Indiana—A big idiot, nonchalantly chopping down a tree, while the business portion of a buffalow in active motion is pointed directly for the tenderest portion of his anatomy.

California—A miner trying to dig gold by the side of a plow on the sea shore, while a young bear complacently chews vegetables next to a muscular female squatted on something that is left to the imagination.

E. B.—In place of an affidavit to the truth of this, reference is made to the cuts in the dictionary.—Sacramento Bee.

The Philadelphia Herald informs the woman of the period that a $25 bonnet doesn't attract half the attention that an ordinary pair of striped stockings does. There must be retrenchment and reform.

Walter Raleigh Never in America.

Every few weeks we see in print something about Sir Walter Raleigh's visits to this country, and his sojourns in Virginia, where, indeed, some persons have assumed to have his blood through connection formed by him when in that colony. Hardly any historic error is commoner than this. It occurs continually, not only in newspapers here and abroad, but in books claiming to have been prepared with care.

The cause of the wide-spread mistake is, doubtless, that Sir Walter did set sail hither, in 1579, with his half-brother, Sir Humphrey Gilbert, who had obtained a liberal patent for establishing a plantation in America. One of their vessels was low, and the other was so crippled, it is said, in an engagement with a Spanish fleet, that they put back without making land. Four years later Raleigh, weary of inactivity as a courtier, used his influence with Queen Elizabeth to promote a second expedition to these shores. Prevented at the last moment by an accident from coming in person, he left the command to Sir Humphrey, who sailed from Plymouth with five ships (June 1583), and reached Newfoundland of which he took possession in the name of the Queen. The voyage was very unfortunate in many ways, and Gilbert himself, in returning home, went down with one of the only two vessels he had left. Raleigh fitted out other expeditions to America, and is reputed, but incorrectly, to have named Virginia after Elizabeth, in honor of her supposed maidenhood. She herself so designated the colony, and conferred upon her favorite the order of knighthood for the efforts he had made to further its progress. Raleigh, however, never set foot on or even saw this land. Still a work with so much reputation and of such pretense as Chambers' Encyclopædia says, in its article on Raleigh, (we quote from the London edition of 1877:) "The spirit of enterprise was however, restless in the man, and, in 1584, a patent having been granted him to take possession of lands to be discovered by him on the Continent of North America, he fitted out two ships at his own expense, and shortly achieved the discovery and occupation of the territory known as Virginia." What does this mean if it does not mean that Raleigh came over in his ships? The Cyclopædia commits the same blunder in divers places, of which this is one: Speaking of the potato, it says it was twice carried to England without attracting much notice, till it was a third time imported from America by Sir Walter Raleigh. If a standard work, ranked as an authoritative work of reference, makes the glaring mistake is it strange that newspapers and hastily written books should trip on the same point.—New York Times.

ANECDOTE OF CONKLING.—Conkling looks exactly like Nast's picture of him as "Jackdaw Conkling." His face is handsome in a certain way, but mean, bad and cynical—he looks like a man who, all sweetness in society, would be selfish, snarling and snappish at home—in short, like what he has proved himself, a coward; a man capable of compromising a woman, and then—running away. From the curl of his forehead to the tip of his aristocratic boot, he looks all this—but is no longer "the blond Mephistopheles of the Senate," for he is growing gray very fast, and looks as if he hated it. Here is a story typical of the vain and small nature of the man. A hotel-keeper in Washington who went to school with him, hadn't met for years. One day Conkling went to his hotel to engage rooms, and stood in the office talking to the clerk. The proprietor came down the stairs, and stepped up and held out his hand, saying, "Roscoe, how are you?" Conkling took no notice of the proffered hand, and drew himself up and said, "I am Senator Conkling, sir." "You are a damned fool, that's what you are," was the response. Conkling turned majestically to the clerk, and said: "Can I have rooms here?" "No, sir," shouted the irate proprietor, "not in my house, nor upon any terms." (By the way, I desire to know what essential difference there is between "d—n" and "damn?" George Eliot does not think there is any difference.

Horatio Seymour looks as young and hearty as he did ten years ago, and is surrounded at his home by books, birds, and divers treasures of art and antiquity. He owns the office chair which Webster used to occupy and has several titles taken from the fireplace of the stately old house where Washington used to go "a-courtin'" Mary Phillippse.

A singular and yet a very sensible gift is that of Lothar von Faber, the well-known German lead-pencil manufacturer. He has just presented the sum of 125,000 marks to the city of Nuremberg, the interest on which he requires to be paid annually to some intelligent, skillful and in all respects worthy mechanic, for the purpose of establishing him in an independent business. The recipient must be of respectable family, a resident of Angemberg or Stein, and must have attended school in one of these towns.

There has rarely been a more remarkable illustration of tapering off than in the whittling down of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts' gift to the famishing Irish from the originally rumored contribution of two million and a half of dollars to a mere paltry thousand.

TAXES.

The Assembly Committee on Ways and Means have agreed to report in favor of a bill to allow property that has been sold for taxes to be redeemed within two years, instead of one year, as now. The time was formerly limited to six months, and then increased to one year, and now the time is to be doubled. This is a square bid to the ax-payer not to pay his State and County taxes. When a man could purchase property for taxes with the knowledge that the property would be his at the expiration of six months from the date of the certificate of sale, there was an inducement for the purchase of such property, but under a law allowing two years for such redemption there will be no such inducement. In many counties such a law would block the wheels of the county government, as no one, particularly heavy property owners, would pay their taxes, preferring to let them run and take the chance of having the property sold for taxes. This would be the case, particularly, in new mining towns. A man would want to see if his property would be productive; whether the town would "go down" or "boom" into a live "camp" within two years. If he did not see the way clear for him to think it policy to pay his taxes he would not, and if there were no purchasers for his property he could let it run till next year and so on indefinietnly, and never pay a tax toward the support of a government to which he looks for protection for the same property. If this bill passes, the delinquent lists of the several counties in this State—more particularly of the mining counties, which are "up" to-day and "down" to-morrow—will be fearfully large. If the large property owners of San Francisco now neglect, or refuse, to pay their taxes, what will be the case under a law such as that now proposed? Why they won't pay a cent; it will be just the law for their kind, and they know how to take advantage of it.

While John A. Clark of the Cove, Western Oregon, was running an engine last week his right hand became fastened in the gear in some manner and almost instantly drawn in up to the elbow, when the arm was jerked completely away at the elbow joint, throwing the dismembered portion to the floor.

Captain Harker, who has lived on the Samoan Islands during the past eighteen years, is in Washington endeavoring to obtain the removal of Consul Dawson, (formerly of Oakland, Cal.), on charges that Dawson is using his position as Consul at Samoa, to play into the hands of wealthy German houses, as against American.

The Homestead Law recently passed in the United States Senate is of much importance to many citizens of California. It provides that the land shall be given to the first settlers, whether he claims as a preemptor or as a homestead entry shall have the first right to acquire title to it after the original entery is cancelled.

There are about 800,000 head of cattle in California, and 8,000,000 sheep. The stock-breeding was begun in 1769 by Spanish friars, at San Diego, who went there from Lower California with 200 head of cattle and 100 sheep, besides a few horses and some hogs.

Major Throckmorton, commanding Fort Stephens, which is located on a peninsula at the mouth of the Columbia river, writes that the waters are rapidly washing away the peninsula, and that the fort now stands within 40 yards of the cliff.

It is understood that the Central Pacific Railroad Company is considering the propriety of laying off ground at Sacramento for cattle yards.

During the recent norther in Napa a strip of wheat about four rods wide and a quarter of a mile long was literally torn up by the roots.

The farmers on the bottom lands of Bea River, which are covered with mining debris, will raise more potatoes this year than ever before.

The New York Mining Exchange ha elected its first 100 members, and Mark McDonald heads the list. There were 450 applicants.

On Monday morning, at Sacramento, the house of P. J. Searsfield caught fire, and his niece, Kate Menaham, aged 8 years, was burned to death.

The number of families living in New York is 213,467. It is officially estimated there are 21,000 tenement houses in that city, and that they contain 500,000 people.

P. E. Benedict of Monte Vista, Los Angeles county, claims to have discovered the secret of making fine white crystalized sugar from honey.

Water at Candaleria is worth five cents per gallon, and has to be hauled from Belleville, eight miles distant.

On Monday last a seat in the New York Stock Exchange was sold for $20,000, the highest price yet paid.

Fifty-four Chinamen are employed on the tobacco lands at San Felipe, and still Californians will chew and smoke tobacco.

Inter-Ocean Canal

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—DeLessups was received by the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce this afternoon, and in responce to the request of those bodies addressed them on the subject of the Interoceanic canal. He compared various routes to the Panama line, advancing arguments with which the public are already familiarized. Dispatches from Senator Booth and Governor Perkins were read, bearing upon the subject under consideration.

Agitator Convicted.

L. J. Gannon, agitator and a leader of the unemployed in their recent demonstration, who was arrested a short time ago on a charge of using incendiary language on the sand lots, had a jury trial in the Police Court to-day, and was promptly convicted, the jury being out only a few minutes. Sentence to-morrow.

Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The body of an unknown man was found dead yesterday afternoon on the hill at the corner of Clay and Walnut street. The deceased, who was fully clothed, was lying upon his back, and at his side was found an empty eight ounce vial labeled strychnine,

Legislative.

SACRAMENTO, March 17—Assembly.—The Committee on Ways and Means have agreed to report for passage, De Valle's bill extending the time for the redemption of property sold for taxes for two years.

Debris bills No. 452 by Chamberlain, 335 by Brown, of Yuba, known as the Park's bill, and No. 450, by Carr, of Yuba, came up first, when Sweetland offered a substitute for it. Before the substitute could be read, McIntosh moved to strike out a clause. The motion was seconded by Carr, of Sacramento. McIntosh withdrew his motion. A long wrangle ensued on the question of having Sweetland's substitute read and printed. A point of order was made that the substitute was an amendment, and could not be printed until adopted. The Speaker finally ruled that each bill must be taken up in turn and perfected, when the House could choose between them.

Tyler moved to print the substitute and make all the bills special order for Wednesday next. Lost. Sweetland's substitute was then read. It preserves most of the features Pelkor bill, but alters the mode of raising money to prosecute the work. Young offered an amendment striking out sections in the substitute relating to the raising of funds, and appropriating seven hundred thousand dollars, and providing for leaving a tax for one fifth of one per cent. on all property in the State for purpose of a canstruction fund.

SENATE—A resolution, limiting speeches to 10 minutes, was passed.

Passed to a second reading, and engrossment bill authorising Trustees of School Districts to issue bonds for building school houses and furnishing the same. The bill limits the amount of debt for school purposes to six per cent upon taxable property of the district.

Man Killed.

SANTA ROSA, March 18.—George Cockrill was shot and killed by Green Hewitt, in a dispute over a game of cards. Cockrill assaulted him, when he, Hewitt, fired. He is under $4,000 bonds,

EASTERN.

The Maine Steal.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 18.—The Legislative Committee, inquiring into the conduct of ex-Governor Garcelon and Council have made their report. It says that Garcelon, while evincing a willingness to disclose everything was infirm in memory, and failed to give satisfactory reasons for his course. When evidence was laid before him he ceased longer to defend the counting out, and passionately declared his own innocence, and declared there was a Judas among the Council who done the villany. The Committee say, First that the returns were kept away from the candidates, contrary to general usage. Second, that during such time alterations, erasures and forgeries were made upon them for the purpose of counting out the Republicans. Third, that during this time defects in the Fusion returns were surreptitiously corrected and affidavits secured to throw out Republican returns. Fourth, that in all such cases the result invariably was counted out Republicans and counted in Fusion candidates. Fifth, the refusing to allow Republican errors to be corrected. Sixth, the rules which were laid down were strictly applied to reject the Republican returns and not applied to count Fusion returns. Seventh, many of these rules were evidently invoked to secure a Fusion Legislature. Eight, these illegal and fraudulent acts, were part of a premeditated plan to secure a fusion Governor and Legislature, and the Council must have been parties to the plan. Ninth different appropriations by the Legislature have been diverted from the legitimate purposes, and in many cases have been exhausted. The public funds were withdraw from the Treasury by Garcelon and his Council without warrant of law, and were applied to unlawful ends.

Man Murdered.

CHICAGO, March 18.—For some weeks there have been trouble among the miners of Rapids City, Ill., on account of some strikers wishing to return to work. A mystic warning of skull and cross bones, and signed "Mollie Maguire" have been distributed among those who were supposed to be weakening. On Tuesday night Taylor Williams was shot through the heart in his own house. Two suspected men have been arrested and held for the inquest.—More trouble is threatened.

Political.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Tribune speaking of Palmer's speech. says: "Palmer, of Illinois, is one of the founders in that State of the Republican party, the world does move and the wrong way sometimes.

Indignant.

CHICAGO, March 18.—The Inter-Ocean Washington special says that Mrs. Chustancy is very indignant at the newspaper publications, and resents with indignation the imputation that she has been unfaithful to her husband. She admits that their separation is final, but insists that it is her choice, and not because of her misconduct. Her treatment from his family has been such that living with them was intolerable, and she gave her husband the choice of separation from her or from them.

Nevada's Senators

CHICAGO, March 18.—The Times says; Generally the Senate is without any Nevada representatives. It was astounded the other day by the appearance of Sharon, who looks in casually, his colleague, Jones not being in attendance; but Jones now appears after an absence of months, and Sharon appears after an absence of months, and Sharon hurries away as if the presence of the two Nevada representatives simultaneously would be unconstitutional.

Hayes and Seward.

CHICAGO, March 18th.—President Hayes is beginning to give indications that he is a reformer, or would like to become one in certain directions. For instance, he has asked the resignation of Seward, Minister to China. It was high times. The scandals concerning his official action have been such as to suggest the impossibility of his being of any service, even if they could not be proven.

Another Defaulter.

ATLANTA, GA., March 18.—Hoyle, Tax Collector, has disappeared. He is a defaulter to the amount of $30,000. Gambling was the cause. He was known to be a part owner of several fast horses, and banker of a faro bank at Cincinnati.

FOREIGN.

The "Dukes"

LONDON, March 18th.—The Standard positively denies that the Duke of Connaught will succeed the Duke of Marlborough in Ireland.

Parnell.

DUBLIN, March 18.—Parnell writing from Iowa, declares that American opinions overwhelmingly afvors a chahge in the Irish land system, and our excited countrymen are so awake that those who cannot see it cannot imagine it. Bishop Logue states that 73,000 individuals in Donegal need relieve the distress will increase until August,

Hartman Case.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 18.—There is said to be so much dispplacement and anger over the Hartman affair that it is likely to lead to the disappointmhnt of those diplomatists responsible for raising the issue Russia and France without being sure of succeeding. If Gen. Melikoff can maintain his position against the intrigues of the officials surrounding the Czar he will abolish the third section of the police department and its evil system of secrets, arrests and persecutions.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, MARCH 19, 1880.

The CHRONICLE Office is on the second floor of "Goodson's Building," east side of Main street, between Standard Avenue and Green street.

JOB PRINTING.—Job printing of the finest description will be furnished at this office at Sacramento prices.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

FIRE.—Mr. Hart's dwelling on Mills street, and adjoining the office of the Con. Pacific Company, was discovered to be on fire about 8:30 o'clock last evening. A small pile of wood on the outside of the building was on fire and burnt a hole through the front end of the building. Mrs. Hart had gone to a neighbor's and locked the door, leaving a large Newfoundland dog in the building. The dog was smothered by the smoke. The building was considerably damaged by fire, and the breaking in of the doors and windows—probably $200 damages. The origin of the fire in the wood pile is a mystery.

HOMER DISTRICT.—Mr. Wasson came in yesterday from the Homer District, and reports that there are numerous arrivals there daily, notwithstanding it is too early to expect to do much, there being some two feet of snow at Lundy City. He met three women footing it through the snow to this promising young district. The Homer Mining Company is the only one at work. They have got all their supplies in, and have put up a building on their millsite.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—A. Lovious was tried yesterday before Judge Peterson for using vulgar language, and was acquitted.

The examination of Dillon for the murder of Travis sometime since is going on before Justice Newman.

LADIES' WINDOW.—Postmaster Putnam has provided a window in the Post Office for the ladies, who remember him nightly in their prayers for the consideration shown them. The window is in the money order office.

BOSTON CON
Martin Jones, Sup't.

Work at this mine is being pushed froward with the utmost rapidity. The shaft is being sunk with a fine working force of eight hour shift, and has now gained a depth of 60 feet below the 200 station. The developments of ore, on the 200-level, warrants the belief that great improvement will be found at greater depth.

New York is to have a colossal bronze statue of Farragut, as well as Washington. St Gaudens, a talented American sculptor, has finished the model for the New York figure, which is to be cast at the celebrated Barbedienne foundry in Paris, and represents the old admiral standing in uniform, wearing his service-cap and holding in one hand a large double-barreled sea-glass. The pedestal for the figure will be at least as broad as it is high, and at the base there will be room for two figures representing courage and loyalty; at the foot of the figure is to be placed a tiny salamander to symbolize the nickname of "Old Salamander," by which the great sea captain was known by his companions in the service. It is thought that it will take something more than a year yet to have the whole work ready to put in place at Union Square.

CONGRESSIONAL.—The following bills have been introduced in the House:

To protect the senders of telegraphic communications against unreasonable search and seizure, or from the production of their messages in evidence in judicial and legislative proceedings, to the same extent as mailed communications.

Proposing a constitutional amendment that the Union of these United States shall be perpetual, and all acts or attempts to destroy it shall be treason against the Federal Government, and punishable as such; that the States' limits and boundaries be inviolate, and the right of a State to make and enforce its local laws never be interfered with by the Federal Government.

Capt. Hemphill and bride are sailing down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, on their honey-moon tour, in a boat built expressly for the purpose. No other soul is aboard the craft, which is gayly bedecked with flags and evergreens, and is greeted on the way with steam whistles and cannon, the bridegroom being a popular man, and known to all steamboat men.

The Governor has re-appointed Dr. J. W. Hatch, of Sacramento, and M. M. Grannis, of Visalia, as members of the State Board of Health.

Much excitement prevails in Nevada county over the discovery of rich quartz mines in Mayer's ravine.

A Chinese woman afflicted with leprosy has been discovered in Napa City, California.

Another new steamer for the Central Pacific Railroad Company is ready for launching.

Frenchtown people are still searching for $35,000 buried by a highway robber in 1850.

The new British Arctic expedition sails in May next.

Queen Victoria, during her sojourn on the Continent, will meet the German Emperor.

The President has nominated James J. Ellison to be Postmaster at Marysville.

White Pine News' it is said, is to be resuscitated.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION, Issued out of the Superior Court of Mono County, California, and to me directed and delivered, for a judgment rendered and entered in said Court, on the 10th day of February, A. D. 1880, in favor of Geo. W. Painter against Geo. S. Elder. I have levied on the following property, to wit: That certain lot, piece, or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the town of Bodie, County of Mono, State of California, located by E. L. Smith and afterwards conveyed by said Smith to Ben H. Miller and by said Miller conveyed to Geo. S. Elder which said deeds are here by referred to for a description of said lot, which said deeds are recorded in the records of said Mono County, said lot is further described as follows: said lot has a frontage of 50 feet on west side of Mill street and extends back therefrom between parallel lines a distance of two hundred feet, the same being enclosed by a post and board fence, together with three small cabins situated thereon.

Notice is hereby given that on the 26TH DAY OF MARCH, A. D. 1880,

at 12 o'clock M. of that day, in front of the Court House, in the town of Bridgeport, County of Mono, I will sell the right, title and interest of said Geo. S. Elder in and to the above described property, at public auction, for cash gold coin in hand, to the highest and best bidder, to satisfy said Execution and all costs.

Dated the 3d day of March, 1880.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

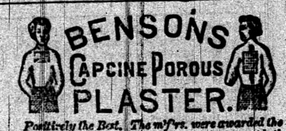

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with the frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient can not account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. DR.
